NEWS RELEASE

'THE WAR AGAINST TERRORISM' DISCUSSION FORUM SLATED AT UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON ON NOV. 7

DAYTON, Ohio — The University of Dayton's Center for International Programs will sponsor a forum titled "The War Against Terrorism: The Next Stage of the Conflict" at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 7. The forum will be held in the Mathias Heck Courtroom located in Keller Hall, home of the UD School of Law.

The forum is free and open to the public. The campus community is especially encouraged to attend.

Faculty members from a number of disciplines will give short presentations about the campaign against terrorism, human rights and institutions in central Asia, the role of Russia and other regional players in the conflict. They also will address the rebuilding of a post-war Afghanistan.

Participating will be Mark Ensalcoco, associate professor of political science and director of the international studies and human rights program; Leila Bashina, a visiting Fulbright scholar, human rights expert and project coordinator of the United Nations development program from Kazakhstan; Jaro Bilocerkowycz, an associate professor of political science and an expert on Russia; and R. Bruce Hitchner, a professor of history and director of the Center for International Programs..

A question-and-answer session will follow the presentations.

For more information, contact Kim Geraci or Jason Norris at (937) 229-4715.
